City has got its buzz back and it's boosting business growth

By George Welch

SIX months on from the grand opening of the Westgate Centre and Oxford has its buzz back

The ambitious £440million redevelopment opened its doors on October 24 last year

Nearly six months to the day and Oxford has been hailed as a 'rejuvenated' city by a business expert after encouraging new data showed the number of companies in Oxfordshire passed the 40,000 milestone for the first time last month – 8 092 of those are based in the city

Businesswoman Anneli Thomson, who sits on the Oxford Chamber Council, said she is not surprised companies are flocking to a city that has regained its purpose.

She said, "Westgate has rejuvenated Oxford as a city People beforehand had little reason to go into the city centre but now it s got a real centre again.

"Its getting people to go out and explore Oxford again—it s got its buzz back."

Miss Thomson, managing director of west Oxfordshire-based Sandler Training, a management consulting company in the service sector has sat on the city's chamber council for nearly two years The group helps Oxford businesses on a daily basis to grow

Describing Oxford as 'vibrant , she said, "It s the jewel in the crown of England because we have all sorts of

Getting down for a good causa Dozens of people walked the plank to song from Oxford Rock Choir with the High Sheriff Richard Venables

MORE than 50 businesses walked the plank to Oxford s Westgate to raise funds for charity.

Backed by the Oxford Rock Choir's rendition of Queen s Don t Stop Me Now the volunteers held a plank exercise for five minutes raising money for Sugar Smart UK and people in disadvantaged areas of Oxford

The event was part of the High Sheriff's Corporate Challenge organised by the new High Sheriff of Oxford Richard Venables

Mr Venables said "It was fantastic to see so many colleagues and friends coming together for this challenge which was great fun and I congratulate everyone involved."

The event was one of a range of sporting and cultural activities aiming to raise £150 000 before March 2019

RAF nurse struck off for posing as teenager

By George Welch

A MILITARY nurse who used computers at RAF Benson to pose as a teenage girl and access indecent images has been struck off.

Squadron Leader Kevin Scrafton was banned last week by the industry regulator after possessing indecent photographs of children at the south Oxfordshire base near Wallingford.

He was convicted last November of offences involving the making and possession of child pornography and has been jailed for 18 months.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council (NMC) has now ruled his fitness to practice was impaired and that he had brought the profession into disrepute.

At a hearing on Wednesday the council heard Scrafton accessed websites to share the images at RAF Benson in 2015 and 2016.

He was arrested in November 2016 and admitted to police that he pretended to be a young girl online to engage in conversations.

He also used pictures of real people from photo-sharing websites to create fake social media accounts using fictional aliases. A police search found a memory stick owned by Scrafton with indecent images of children.

The panel described the offences as 'extremely serious'.

Although Scrafton admitted having the images, he denied being sexually attracted to the victims and denied having the images for his own sexual gratification.

The report read: "Scrafton has put members of the public at an unwarranted risk of harm, breached fundamental tenets of the nursing profession, and brought the nursing profession into disrepute.

"The panel considered that the public would be appalled if [this] panel did not make a finding of current impairment based on convictions of this nature and gravity."

The NMC said that since Scrafton's conviction it has received no further evidence of insight into his behaviour, or of any remediation into his failings.

This the regulator said, suggested a "harmful deep seated personality or attitudinal problem".

Scrafton was convicted of two counts of making indecent photographs and 15 of possession.

He was handed an 18-month jail sentence and made subject to a 10-year sexual harm prevention order. He also has to sign the sex offenders register for 10 years.

InBrief

Solicitor sentencing

A DIDCOT woman charged with neglecting her mother who was found dead 'head to toe in faeces' will be sentenced tomorrow (Friday).

Solicitor Emma-Jane Kurtz was convicted of wilful neglect at Oxford Crown Court last month.

Her mum, Cecily, was found emaciated and slumped in their Blackwater Way living room in July 2014.

The incontinent 79-year old, who had depression and obsessive compulsive disorder was found wearing the same clothes as a decade ago.

Firearm charge

A MAN has been charged with possessing a prohibited firearm.

George Baker, 16, of Hilfiat Fields, Drayton, was charged on Tuesday last week after a property was searched and a stun gun was found.

Baker was remanded in custody at Banbury Magistrates' Court and will appear at Oxford Crown Court on May 16.

Driverless cars driven on county roads for the first time

Driving force: The Oxbotica car

DRIVERLESS cars took to Oxfordshire's roads for the first time last week.

Oxbotica led DRIVEN driverless vehicles that 'talk' to each other to navigate more efficiently were demonstrated publicly for the first time in Oxfordshire.

An autonomous Ford Fusion Titanium and Ford Mondeo successfully traversed the roads around Culham Science Centre demonstrating the futuristic technology on board.

Light and detection ranging sensors, on board computers and cameras, as well as Oxford-based Oxbotica's Selenium autonomy and Caesium fleet tracking software means the cars avoid pedestrians and cyclists.

DRIVEN project director and Oxbotica CEO Dr Graeme Smith said: "This is a significant landmark in the development of vehicle autonomy, which has always been about more than simply self-driving.

"This public trial demonstrates our technology is able to share data and information that vehicles are then able to use to plot more effective routes, avoid potential hazards and anticipate conditions more effectively."

DRIVEN co-founder Professor Paul Newman said the project "could revolutionise people's lives" and be worth "billions in the years ahead".

Happy ending for Lucy

THIS adorable black labrador is recovering after life saving surgery to remove a football sized tumour.

Six-year-old Lucy was brought into pet charity Blue Cross rehoming centre in Burford, by friends of her owner who died weeks before.

Staff were shocked to find the 2kg tumour and worked quickly to get Lucy into surgery to remove the cancerous mass.

The tumour which weighed more than two bags of sugar took vets two hours to remove and luckily was found not to have spread.

Lucy was also neutered to prevent future uterine disease and reduce the risk of further hormone-related mammary tumours.

The unfortunate pup is back on her feet after the £1,000 surgery and is now recovering in a foster home.

Laura Cross, small animals manager at Blue Cross rehoming centre, said: "We're over the moon to see a happy ending for Lucy.

"She was brought into us for rehoming after her owner died and it seemed she had just got used to the massive lump hanging down from her abdomen."

A quarter of unsprayed female dogs develop mammary tumours.

Staff will now find a forever home for Lucy.

Donations towards Lucy's surgery can be made via JustGiving at https://bit.ly/2qTylFe

MP's concern over freight trains

By George Welch

NOISE from freight trains running through north Oxford is 'shaking children out of their beds in the middle of the night — and it is only going to get worse'

Oxford West and Abingdon MP Layla Moran asked transport minister Jo Johnson in the House of Commons last week if they could meet to discuss rail problems including the impact of HS2 in the city.

But in response Mr Johnson said Network Rail was responsible for the freight rail.

Ms Moran said last Thursday: "Residents in north Oxford are gravely concerned about the increase in rail freight particularly with the possibility of the line being used to construct HS2.

"Children are already shaken out of their beds in the middle of the night because of freight trains.

"Will the Minister consent to meet me to discuss their concerns but, critically, the solutions which include monitoring and speed reductions for the trains?"

Mr Johnson said he sympathises with residents but that the government is committed to getting freight off roads and onto rail to realise the environmental and economic benefits of rail freight.

He added: "However, the Department does not specify the level of freight services on the network, as that is a commercial matter for the freight operating companies and is a function of market demand.

"The Oxford area is at capacity during the day although the Oxford corridor capacity improvement scheme will deliver two additional freight train paths an hour in each direction."

Mr Johnson said it is anticipated that rail will be used to move materials for HS2, a planned high-speed railway linking London, Birmingham, the East Midlands, Leeds and Manchester, but that it was not confirmed which freight lines would be used.

Good mix of businesses

different businesses, ranging in size, and people just don't realise they're based here. It's got everything.

"Oxford is going to go from strength to strength. From a business point of view, things are going upwards.

"Westgate has put a new injection of life into it. I'm really excited to see what the rest of the year holds."

She added: "There's a good mix of businesses in Oxford. You've got the entrepreneurs, the scientific and the more established businesses. That's what makes it unique."

Of the 40,124 businesses in Oxfordshire, South Oxfordshire leads the way with 9,119 of them. Cherwell has the second most with 8,780 companies ahead of the 8,092 in Oxford.

There were 4,612 new companies registered in the county during 2017, slightly up on the 4,517 in 2016.

OxLEP chief executive Nigel Tipple said the data, based on information from Companies House and the Office of National Statistics, reaffirms the county's position of economic strength.

Classes and workshops to inspire and motivate fitness fans

FITNESS fanatics were head over heels for a new fitness and wellbeing festival that took place in Oxford at the weekend.

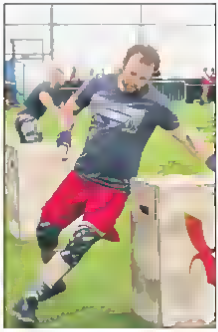
FitFest Oxford is the county's largest festival of its kind packed full with talks and workshops, innovative fitness classes, and live cooking and beauty demonstrations.

Festival goers also took part in a fitness-wear fashion show, a pop-up marketplace and a FitFest Oxford Throwdown and Boxing Fight Night.

Paige Stead, one of the founders of FitFest Oxford said: "Our dream was to create a must not miss event that would inspire, motivate and educate like-minded individuals all under one roof.

"Visitors were able to learn, taste, sample and experience everything that the industry has to offer."

BBC commentator, author and nutritionist Julie Montague spearheaded a programme of speakers at the Oxford Academy on Saturday including yoga gurus Lululemon.



During the day there were around 45 fitness classes to choose from with up to 80 fitness, wellness and beauty brands.

FitFest Oxford was founded by a group of friends who share a passion for fitness and wellness.

City has new Polish twin

OXFORD will soon have a new twin city as Wroclaw in western Poland, becomes the first affiliate from central Europe

City councillor John Tanner travelled to Poland to agree an outline for a formal partnership with Cllr Jacek Ossowski the chairman of Wroclaw City Council.

Mr Tanner, a board member of Oxford City Council and secretary of the Oxford European Association, said: "Especially after Brexit, the city council wants to strengthen its links with cities in the rest of Europe."

The country's fourth largest city Wroclaw has two universities and in 2016 was Europe's Capital of Culture.

Cllr Tanner who paid for his travel to and from Wroclaw, said: "Until now Oxford has not had a friendship link with anywhere in central Europe so I am thrilled."

Ewa Ghza, secretary of the Oxford Polish Association, said: "We are very pleased that Oxford is hoping to have a new twin city in Poland

"There is an important Polish community here in Oxford and a Polish twin town is a really good idea."

Oxford is twinned with five other cities: Leiden in the Netherlands, Bonn in Germany, Grenoble in France, Leon in Nicaragua and Perm in Russia.

Two musicians from Leon are playing a mini tour of the city. Visit tinyurl.com/y7g9jv3e for more information.

Putting the boot in to new store

LOCAL lads Low Island provided the sounds to the raucous official opening of an iconic footwear store at the Westgate Centre

The indie-pop foursome put on a free gig to celebrate Dr Martens newest store earlier this month

Low Island held a captive audience and ensured a night to remember for Oxford music fans performing many tracks

Support came from lo-fi chic pop group Candy Says, also from the city, who warmed the crowd with an energetic and powerful performance

A special attention-grabbing commission from Oxford artist John Mackay was proudly displayed on a large-scale backboard and will be on the store's bags

Raucous opening: Low Island and Candy Says entertained at Dr Martens and right, the eyecatching bags

Professor sets record and aids refugee fund

By Owen Hughes

AN Oxford University professor has completed six world marathon majors in a year to raise money for Oxford based refugee charity Asylum Welcome

Professor Alexander Betts raised more than £1,700 for the charity after setting a world record for the fastest combined time for a complete Abbot World Marathon Majors series

The six world marathons began in April last year taking place in Tokyo, London, Berlin, Chicago and New York before the sixth and final race in Boston

Alex finished the last of the six majors on Monday last week in the coldest Boston Marathon on record

Mother Nature unleashed her full force on the marathon runner who battled against torrential rain, 25mph headwinds and -1 degree temperatures to finish 216th in 2 hours 42 minutes

Alex completed his first five marathons in times of 2hrs 38mins, 2hrs 39mins, 2hrs 40mins, 2hrs 46mins and 2hrs 46mins

This gave him an average time of 2 hours 41 minutes across all six races within Series XI of the world marathon majors, setting a new world record for a single series.

Alex also ranks in the top 10 on the all time list of more than 3,600 people to finish all six marathon majors over any time period.

Keep on running: Alexander Betts raced in six marathons in 12 months for an Oxford-based charity Asylum Welcome

He said: "This was a great opportunity to do something wacky that I love, while contributing to the really important work of a local refugee charity

"I am never going to be a world class athlete but I love running.

"Identifying an obscure world record I could beat offered an opportunity to raise money and draw attention to the excellent work done by Asylum Welcome.

"Part of the reason nobody has beaten this record is that athlete runners generally won't do more than a couple of marathons in a year

"As a Professor of Refugee Studies who believes in supporting refugee rights, this is a great opportunity to contribute to something practical and local."

Asylum Welcome supports asylum seekers, refugees and detainees who seek refuge in Oxfordshire after fleeing persecution in their own countries

To donate to Alex's JustGiving page for Asylum Welcome, visit https://bit.ly/2HLJUgd

Superheroes day out

THERE aren't many moments in life where you will see Spider-Man, Princess Leia and Queen Daenerys Targaryen in the same room together.

But more than 1,000 fantasy fans got a glimpse of their favourite comic book and film characters at the third Oxford Comic Con on Saturday.

Notable guests at the event included motion capture performer Arti Shah, who was a droid puppeteer in the latest Star Wars blockbusters, Toby Philpott and John Coppinger who brought Jabba the Hutt to life, and Judge Dredd artist John Higgins.

More than 90 exhibitors took up stalls at the event showcasing everything from comics and cosplay to arts, cinemas and retro gaming.

Event organiser Leo Davidson said: "The event surpassed our previous ones in almost every way and we can't wait for the next one. It is our privilege and joy to be able to organise such a wonderful event in Oxford.

"We are so grateful to everyone who came."

Warning after driver cut free from car

AN elderly woman had to be cut free by fire fighters after a two-car smash near Faringdon.

Police, fire and ambulance crews all attended the A4095 Radcot collision shortly after 11am on Friday.

The occupants of one car managed to climb out of their vehicle but fire fighters had to use specialist equipment to free the driver of the second car when they arrived.

The woman was taken to hospital but no one was seriously injured.

Fire crews from Witney and paramedics from South Central Ambulance Service attended.

Incident commander station manager Paul Webster said: "This was a considerable impact to both vehicles. I would like to take this opportunity to remind all road users to wear their seatbelts and to take extra care whilst driving on rural roads.

"Also just after sunrise and before sunset the sun can shine directly into drivers eyes leaving many motorists driving with a glare.

"This glare can make it much harder to see the road ahead and potential hazards creating an added risk to drivers.

"When sun glare is an issue slow down and use extra caution."

Collision: Drivers are advised to be aware of the sun's glare

Heroes and villains: Stormtroopers were out in force at Oxford Comic Con joined by Batman with a young Batgirl and Spiderman with a playful Deadpool beside him

Community credited for children's services work

MORE than £40 000 has been handed out to groups across Oxfordshire to boost children s services in the wake of closures

Start up funding has been awarded to four more groups providing children s services in Oxfordshire in the latest round of funding, taking the total number to 38

Those to receive extra funding are Benson Little Acorns (£22,000) Didcot APUK (£6 100) St Edburgs Church with Kingsmere (Bicester £11 200) and the Comfort Trust (East Oxford, £2 729)

Lucy Butler, Oxfordshire County Council s director for children's services said, "Much has been said about the closure of children s centres in Oxfordshire but through the amazing efforts of community groups many of these buildings are very much open and running services for 0 5 year olds

"This time last year I don't think many people thought that would happen but it has and it's something for which local people deserve enormous credit."

OCC announced its intentions to close 44 children's centres and early intervention hubs in 2016 to cut £8million from its budget, forming part of nearly £300m wider savings needed by 2020

Over the last year community groups from across the county have been applying for a slice of the £1m 'transition pot to help them become self-sustainable.

The groups to benefit are

■ Benson Little Acorns will receive £22,000 over two years to create a children s centre in the community for parents and children ages 0-5 The toddler group, run by parents and volunteers wants to extend its activities

■ Didcot APUK will receive £6 100 over two years to continue Didcot Baby Monday (DBM) a weekly parent and baby group offering a safe open space for parents and their new baby

■ St Edburgs Church with Kingsmere (Bicester) will receive £11 200 over two years to fund family support work in Bicester including stay and play, focusing on the Kingsmere Estate

■ The Comfort Trust, East Oxford will receive £2,729 over one year to support its existing work in East Oxford running four baby and toddler groups

Wood recycling firm in running for social responsibility award

By Owen Hughes

AN Abingdon-based wood recycling centre has made the cut in a business awards honouring social enterprises

Oxford Wood Recycling, based on Suffolk Way, Abingdon, is one of four finalists in the Bluestream Recruitment Award for Social Responsibility at the new 2018 Vale 4 Business Awards

The finalists were revealed last month at Abingdon's Crown & Thistle after all four organisations displayed "outstanding commitment to fulfilling a social mission"

The businesses were assessed for their impact on local groups / area, commitment of staff, and use of corporate social responsibility to address challenges.

Oxford Wood Recycling's social mission is to employ people at a disadvantage in finding work.

The not-for-profit organisation, formed in 2005, currently employs 20 people.

The company also has a strong environmental mission to encourage wood reuse with 250 to 300 tonnes passing through the shop's doors every year

CEO Richard Snow said, "While we work very hard to run a successful business that employs people, we're very much working to our social and environmental missions

"We work in the recycling sector, but we reuse a significant amount of wood each year- this is wood that people have effectively thrown away but we bring it back onto the market for use for DIY

"If you put wood in a skip it never gets re-used. It might get recycled but it won't get re-used."

Richard added that winning the award would be a proud moment for his team of employees and volunteers who "deserve recognition for the work they put in year in and year out"

He added, "We hope to win, but there's some strong contenders in our category

"It shows that social enterprise is quite strong in the county and district which is nice for us because we're a proud social enterprise

"We've never been recognised locally for an award, so it would be really good to get it

"It will hopefully let our friends and customers know that we're moving in the right direction."

The Vale 4 Business Awards ceremony will take place at the Williams F1 Conference Centre in Grove on May 18.

Other companies competing for the award are BETTER – White Horse Leisure and Tennis Centre; food education social enterprise Maymessy CIC and craft brewery Tap Social which provides courses for offenders

Cutting edge: The Oxford Wood Recycling team are up for an award recognising their social impact

Online tool to help patients

AN online tool that allows people with a form of inflammatory bowel disease to manage their condition and reduce hospital visits is being rolled out to more patients in Oxford.

The True Colours platform for people with ulcerative colitis is now available to almost 400 patients in the city following a successful six-month trial at the John Radcliffe Hospital in Headington.

Ulcerative colitis affects the large intestine and colon and can cause irritation and diarrhoea

Typically, people are diagnosed with the condition in their early twenties.

The True Colours system means patients receive a daily e-mail to complete quick questionnaires about symptoms and quality of life

Based on their answers, the patient is given a score and advised about any steps to take

Dr Alissa Walsh, a clinical research fellow in gastroenterology who carried out the trial, said empowered patients have welcomed the clarity over when to contact clinicians

She said, "We know that if people act on their symptoms and call earlier, they do better

"It decreases the amount of time in flare that they have and can decrease hospitalisation."

The new tool was developed by the National Institute of Health Research Oxford Biomedical Research Centre.

Andy's date at Buckingham Palace

By George Welch

JUST weeks after one Didcot resident received her invite to the royal wedding, another has been honoured with a royal date.

Prolific fundraiser Andy Baker will rub shoulders with the Queen after being invited to a glitzy garden party at Buckingham Palace this summer.

Andy, who founded Didcot-based fundraising group Play2Give in 2007, will meet royals including the Queen at the palace on June 5 – his birthday – in what he described as a 'dream come true'.

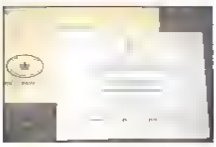
P2G, our charity of the year for 2017, raises cash for its two main benefactors: the Oxford Children's Hospital and brain injury charity Headway Oxfordshire.

Andy, 29, said: "I never in a million years thought I would get this or see the day I would get to go to Buckingham Palace, so it's definitely a dream come true.

"I can't stop smiling. When my mum gave me this envelope we both ended up crying in tears of happiness.

"This means so much and for me I consider it to be a real achievement to get invited to such a special occasion as this as I've overcome and fought so much in my life to achieve against many odds medically."

'Dream come true'. Andy Baker collecting his BCA in July last year and inset, the invitation to the royal garden party on his birthday



Andy is £9,000 away from raising a milestone £100,000 for good causes in his 16 years of fundraising.

Visit play2give.org.uk for more information and to donate.

Courtney Hughes, aka Secret Santa, will attend the wedding of Prince Harry and Meghan Markle on May 19 at Windsor Castle after the invitation landed on her doormat earlier this month.

Heat from sun's rays sparks fire at cottage

IT was so hot last week that a fire was started in a listed building by the sun's rays magnified through a window.

A thatched cottage in Childrey near Wantage nearly went up in flames when the sun's rays were magnified through a convex glass window in a front door.

This in turn led to burning of a wicker bag in the front porch of the Grade II listed house so it started smouldering.

The home owner was outside when she heard smoke alarms and returned inside to find smoke in her High Street home shortly after 6pm last Wednesday.

She ran inside to discover smoke filling the ground floor and called 999.

The woman extinguished the fire before crews from Wantage, Didcot and Faringdon arrived.

A fire service spokesperson said: "When we have sunny weather like this week the right conditions can be found for glass objects to enhance the sun's rays and cause a fire when in contact with combustible items.

"Luckily the occupier was alerted by working smoke alarms in the home."

Jewellery stolen

THIEVES used a spade to smash their way into a home in Cutteslowe.

Raiders shattered the glass of a patio door to get into the home in Carlton Road between 10am and 3pm on Tuesday last week.

They removed a padlock to get through the side gate and then used a spade to smash the back door.

They ransacked the home and took a number of expensive items of jewellery and clothing.

Call police on 101 with information.

Curry giveaway

OXFORD'S Wagamama is giving 100 free curries away to celebrate the launch of a new dish.

The Japanese restaurant has introduced a 'vegatsu' at its Market Street site, the first outside London to serve the vegan meal.

The chain will give away 50 curries at 3pm on April 30 and May 7 on a first come, first served basis.

Charity name ideas

OXFORDSHIRE Association for the Blind wants to change its name because it believes it is misleading and is asking people for ideas.

After conducting its own research, the group said its name was 'off putting' for people with some vision and 'shocking' for those in the early stages of sight loss.

Sea change in plastic recycling method

Diamond scientists help with enzyme to break down PET

By George Welch

BOFFINS at Harwell-based Diamond Light Source have helped engineer a potentially revolutionary method of recycling plastics

Scientists have improved a naturally occurring enzyme which can digest some of our most commonly polluting plastics.

PET, the strong plastic commonly used in bottles takes hundreds of years to break down in the environment

The modified enzyme, known as PETase, can start breaking down the same material in just a few days.

This is expected to transform the recycling process, allowing plastics to be re-used more effectively

Experts at Portsmouth University led the research and worked closely with Diamond Light Source and the US Department of Energy's National Renewable Energy Laboratory

Scientists at the Diamond Light Source employed a synchrotron that uses intense beams of X-rays 10 billion times brighter than the sun to act as a microscope powerful enough to see individual atoms.

From this, a high definition 3D model of the enzyme was created.

Professor John McGeehan, from Portsmouth University said access to the facility "allowed us to see the 3D atomic structure of PETase in incredible detail"

"Being able to see the inner workings of this biological catalyst provided us with the blueprints to engineer a faster and more efficient enzyme" he added.

Researchers made the breakthrough when examining a natural enzyme thought to have evolved in a recycling centre in Japan.

Professor Andrew Harrison, chief executive of the Diamond Light Source, said: "The detail that the team were able to draw out from the results achieved at Diamond will be invaluable in looking to tailor the enzyme for use in large-scale industrial recycling processes"

He added, "The impact of such an innovative solution to plastic waste would be global. It is fantastic that UK scientists and facilities are helping to lead the way"

UK consumers use around 13 billion plastic drinks bottles a year but more than three billion are not recycled.

However, the enzyme is a number of years away from being deployed on a widespread scale.

It will need to degrade PET faster than its current time of a few days before becoming economically viable

Steamy novels shade it as most donated items

A CHARITY has been inundated with thousands of copies of the steamy novel Fifty Shades of Grey which has become the most frequently donated item to their shops

Burford-based pet charity Blue Cross said the raunchy best seller was their most commonly given item of 2017 and more are still arriving in 2018 and flying off the shelves.

All of the 57 Blue Cross charity shops across the UK have received numerous sets of all copies, with some shops taking in one book or more every week.

Retail manager Ann Penfold said they often receive more donations in line with current trends – but not on this scale

Sabine Kraus, assistant manager of the Summertown branch, said: "We've had lots of copies of these books all three of the series at one time or another over the last year

'Some of our customers say they prefer a good murder mystery but others have picked up a copy for a bargain."

The series was written in 2011 by UK author E. L. James and the Fifty Shades of Grey 2015 film grossed more than $1.3billion at box office.

The first book set a record in the UK as the fastest-selling paperback of all time

Real scorcher: Catharine Slatter was happy to get her medal Cheers: Dr Emily Harrop was spurred on by the crowds So glad to have done it:

By Owen Hughes

OXFORDSHIRE runners braved the scorching conditions on Sunday to compete in the London Marathon raising vital sums for charity

Oxfam, the Charlie Waller Memorial Trust and VICTA all benefitted from the tireless endeavours of the county's runners

Catherine Slatter, 51, from Cowley took part in the marathon to raise funds for Oxfam, completing the race – her second – in five hours, 13 minutes and 19 seconds.

She said. "It was very tough, a real scorcher so my time was very slow f was just happy to survive it and get my medal. The crowd atmosphere was as incredible as ever – it's really an amazing experience."

Oxfam's director of fundraising Nicola Tallett, said. "We are extremely grateful to Catherine and all those who continue to support and fundraise for us."

Jessica Lever, 29, finished the marathon with 40 minutes to go until the eight hour limit. The former pupil at John Mason School in Abingdon raised funds for VICTA, a charity that supports blind and partially sighted people, in honour of friend Mel.

Jessica, from Culham said. "The spectators were just amazing full stop people lining the streets for most of the 26 miles Running over Tower Bridge was truly amazing and something I'll never forget Best of all I've raised nearly £5 000 for VICTA.

"I don't think I'll ever run a marathon again, but I'm so glad I've done it."

Competing in the marathon for mental health charity Charlie Waller Memorial Trust was a family affair for some Oxfordshire runners.

For Hugo Jacobs, 53, the London Marathon was a small step on his way to beating depression as he prepares for a 82-mile ultra marathon.

Hugo from Wantage completed the marathon in four hours and 12 minutes, while son Ned achieved an impressive time under three hours and 45 minutes Hugo said. "Raising money for CWMT is a no brainer for me – I suffer depression and understand being in a black lonely abyss. CWMT do great things in this regard and I know they save lives."

Ned, 22, added that the "horrific illness" is "heartbreaking".

Harry Wills, 26, from Oxford, finished the marathon one second behind brother Tom in five hours, one minute and 34 seconds.

The pair were also raising funds for the Charlie Waller Memorial Trust.

Harry said the charity has a "huge passion" for supporting young people with their mental wellbeing and "being a small charity, your donation will make a tangible difference".

Coming in just before the brothers was Carl Holton, from Witney, who completed the gruelling 26.2 mile run to support adoption charity Parents and Children Together (PACT).

He said. "I have to admit it's one of the most rewarding things ever, seeing and running with people who are raising money for brilliant charities much like PACT.

"Yes it was painful but it's all worth it for the tireless work they do day-to-day for these children and families."

Carl completed the run in five hours, 23 minutes and 57 seconds.

Helen & Douglas House runner Dr Emily Harrop completed the marathon in five hours and 14 minutes raising almost £6 000 all while wearing odd socks, inspired by a child at the house who always wore odd socks.

Emily said "Taking part in the London Marathon was one of the most amazing things I have ever done.

"The real highlights were all the fantastic crowds cheering us on, the Helen & Douglas House cheer team, and my family along the route."

Pupils 'growing as young people at happy school'

A 'VIBRANT' school in Wantage praised for how children appreciate differences continues to impress inspectors.

Stockham Primary School was rated as good following a visit from Ofsted on March 16.

Inspector Matthew Haynes said the school has improved since it was judged to be good in December 2013 and suggested it could be upgraded to outstanding at a future review.

He said. "This vibrant, happy school helps pupils not only to achieve highly but also to grow as young people in a wide range of ways.

"The school's motto, 'soaring high' captures the ambition which staff instil in pupils. Pupils develop a strong appreciation of people with a range of backgrounds and beliefs."

Mr Haynes also praised how pupils stay fit during the 'daily mile' initiative. He added. "While all pupils exercise during the day teachers and leaders regularly go the extra mile determined to help pupils succeed.

"The highly skilful compassionate leadership has made sure the school goes from strength to strength."

Headteacher Ruth Burbank said she was so proud of the school.

Under new Ofsted rules, a further inspection will have to be undertaken before the Stockham Way school can be considered as outstanding.

PAIN FREE DENTISTRY

Dentistry has evolved and your desire to have lovely and healthy teeth delivered in a modern, pain-free and relaxing manner is a realistic expectation. At The White Bridge Clinic, systems have been implemented to ensure you receive the most comfortable treatment, from pain-free injections to no more impressions and total relaxation with sedation we strive to make your visits the best you have ever had.

Fear of injections is now a thing of the past. Come and experience the future of advanced dentistry.

SEDATION

Is your dental anxiety preventing you from having your dental treatment? If so, sedation is the perfect answer for you. With intravenous sedation, you will become drowsy and unaware of the treatment, but you will still be able to co-operate with the dentist.

Most dental anxieties are overcome with our caring and relaxing approach to your dental care, however, sedation is useful when treatment is urgent, complex or anxieties are very high. Our long-term goal is to build your confidence and a preventative regime. Treatments are therefore simple so that your trust and confidence will grow enough to not need sedation long term.

We believe in getting to know our patients and in doing so we allocate longer appointment times as we want to ensure you are receiving the highest quality of care. We want the time you spend at the practice to be as comfortable as possible.

If you are nervous about visiting the dentist or having injections, talk to our team today

QUICKSLEEPER 5

An innovative computerised anaesthetic system is available to our patients in our commitment to giving you the most comfortable experience available. This device allows you to have one or several teeth anaesthetised painlessly and quickly, leaving you with no numb lips and cheeks as associated with old fashion injection techniques. This means less time for you in the dental chair and quick recovery time following your treatment allowing you to get on with your day

TRIOS INTRAORAL SCANNER

Many patients do not like the putty moulds in their mouths and for some, it can be a reason not to go to the dentist. At The White Bridge Clinic, an investment has been made in the state of the art digital scanner which replaces the old fashion putty moulds. Through a series of photos (thousands), an image of the teeth is taken. Not only does this increase the comfort of your visits but the quality is far higher and accurate than conventional impressions

New bakery pulls in the dough as 2,300 pasties sold in a week

By George Welch

LIFE in Bicester just got a little bit sweeter after an exciting new bakery opened in the town centre.

Cornwall-based Warrens Bakery is responsible for the mouth-watering smells tempting shoppers in Pioneer Square in recent weeks.

A staggering 2,379 pasties were gobbled up in the store's first week and, on its first day of trading, the store welcomed 499 customers through its doors.

The 55-seater Bicester store one of more than 60 in England, has created eight jobs.

Franchisee Robert Crompton described the opening day as 'hectic'.

He added: 'Local customers are key to our success and we have tried to provide everything they need to enhance their visit to us with daily papers, free WiFi, instore music, nappy changing / WC facilities and even a selection of toys and books for the little ones.

"We also have outside seating and local offers running too so we are welcoming all to come and see us at our new Bicester store, there is truly something for everyone."

The economic potential of Bicester has also been hailed by the directors of a recruitment agency which has moved its office to the 'growing town.

Thorne and Wait, which specialises in recruitment for the transport, logistics and manufacturing sector has moved from Kidlington to Market Square, also in the town centre, to be closer to its client base in those industries.

Company directors Steve Thorne and Wesley Wait, who set up the agency two years ago, said they were 'excited' about Bicester's economic prospects.

Mr Wait said: "Bicester is a rapidly growing town, which has recently approved the construction of 10,000 new homes and many more industrial units over the next 12 years.

"This will help to grow the potential pool of labour within this marketplace and the ability to supply a quality local workforce to local companies is one area we're very good at and keen to see grow."

Mr Thorne added: "Bicester is one of the most rapidly growing towns in Oxfordshire and we have noticed similar growth in the demand for labour."

Teenagers word gap

UNCOMMUNICATIVE teenagers are nothing shocking, but latest research suggests a large number of them do not know enough words to do well at school.

According to academics, four out of 10 pupils in their first year of secondary school have such a limited vocabulary that it is negatively impacting their learning.

Based on a survey of more than 1,300 UK teachers, the Oxford University Press report reveals a 'significant word gap' which is adversely affecting children's learning.

Many of the teachers say the problem is worsening.

They blame the 'word gap' – or limited vocabulary – on too little reading for pleasure.

Studies suggest breadth of vocabulary is strongly influenced by the number of words a child comes into contact with on a daily basis, including reading books and speaking to family and friends.

Building communities

COMMUNITY groups across the county can apply for a share of a £250,000 prize fund available through Jewson's Building Better Communities scheme.

Good causes can apply for cash for materials to improve their facilities.

Jewson will award one project up to £50,000 as well as smaller prizes to other projects. Go to buildingbettercommunities.co.uk.

Have your company name on Stars shirts

A community-driven competition is offering businesses the chance to have their logo emblazoned on the Oxford City Stars home shirt next season.

A £2,000 sponsorship deal with the city's ice hockey team, who missed out on promotion at the weekend, is up for grabs.

Companies and charities can enter the off ice competition by donating £100 to the Stars' Just Giving campaign which aims to improve the club's community involvement in schools.

Each entrant will receive a season ticket for next season which covers the full value of the investment in the draw based on the early bird price of £100 for an adult.

The Stars, who need £15,000 to run a full community engagement programme next season, are looking for a minimum of 20 entries to cover the cost of the sponsorship.

The winner will have their logo on the home shirt next season. If there are fewer than 20 entrants the prize will revert to the away shirt if there are 10 entries.

Stars director Greig Box Turnbull said: "This is a fantastic opportunity for local businesses to gain fantastic exposure and support the Stars and what we are building as a club."

Digging deep to build new college digs

A RETIRED college Master has been handed an engraved silver spade as ground was broken on 'significant' new student accommodation.

Fellows, staff, students, alumni and friends of Balliol College gathered to see Professor Sir Drummond Bone officially launch the construction of nine new buildings around the Master's Field cricket pitch in St Cross Road.

The project will deliver 223 new undergraduate and postgraduate rooms for the college as well as a sports pavilion and extensive new landscaping.

Sir Drummond retired as Master of Balliol at the end of last month after nearly seven years in the role.

He said: "This project will allow the college to accommodate all its undergraduate population at Balliol College for the duration of their time in Oxford and will make very significant improvement to the accommodation provision for postgraduates.

"We are very excited to be starting this project and look forward to the completion of the first building."

The first building should be built by early next year.

Ill youngsters meet new friends as they show their creative side

By George Welch

A GROUP of artistic terminally ill children showed off their creative side when they had a go at graffiti art in the sun.

The five teenagers visited Helen & Douglas House s first #Network event earlier this month to meet other people through a variety of entertaining activities.

The day of fun in the sun, a sign that summer is just around the corner, aimed to give children who can become more isolated as they head towards adulthood, the chance to meet fellow ill youngsters who use the hospice.

Its aim is also to allow young people to try new experiences and have a good time

The East Oxford hospice runs a series of events so teenagers can meet similar people giving parents and children a time and space to support each other in an alternative environment.

The networking day began with some ice breaking games including banana surgery which involves cutting and reassembling the fruit.

They then created their very own action animation film on an iPad before the highlight of the day – graffiti art

Ethan, 16 from Bicester has Duchenne Muscular Dystrophy and has been visiting Helen & Douglas House since 2011.

The teen particularly enjoyed the graffiti and his works of art included an owl, a star and headphones.

Nursery manager Becky Wolf, who came up with the idea for the project, said. "It was great to gather these teenagers together as a group because they often do not meet on their respite stays with us

"This was the first time we have done graffiti art with our children and it was a huge success. It is definitely something which appeals to teenagers and we will use this activity again in future One of the teenagers said he had learnt two new skills which was brilliant."

Following the success of this event, similar activities will be held quarterly in July October and December

Bus fare rises blamed on congestion

ONE of Oxford's main bus companies has blamed congestion and lengthening journey times for increasing fares on its buses

Stagecoach confirmed last week that prices will go up in Oxford with single fares increasing by 10p and returns by 20p.

Prices for the Oxford Tube the Oxford to London service will rise for the first time since 2015 with a single going up by £1 Return fares have been cut by £1 but the next day return option has been scrapped.

The company said the cost of other tickets including the 7 day megarider would be frozen

Children will now go free on 'connector' tickets which allows travel on local services to connect to and from the Oxford Tube stops.

Martin Sutton managing director of Stagecoach in Oxfordshire, said. "We have worked hard to reduce our costs and keep fare increases down to a minimum, and many people, particularly Oxford SmartZone customers, will see no increase at all.

"However due to the effects of worsening congestion and falling journey speeds our operating costs are rising and therefore our prices have to increase to compensate for this."

The changes will come into effect from Sunday

Stroke of good luck

Oar-some: The Active Body Healthy Mind sports project run by Aspire provides disadvantaged people with sports and social activities to improve well being, self esteem and confidence and has been boosted by the partnership

AN Oxford charity that supports vulnerable people back into work has been given a boost with the launch of a new business partnership

Aspire Oxford has been nominated as the central Oxford charity partner for the Midcounties Co-operative.

The company will organise fundraising events for the charity and set up donation points in up to 50 Co-operative Food stores

Fundraisers will also take part in various sporting challenges on behalf of Aspire, including sportive Bike Oxford and the Oxford Half Marathon.

The partnership will also provide funding for a Back-to-Work scheme and provide Aspire trainees with week long work placements to re-introduce them to a working environment

Aspire chief executive Paul Roberts said. "We re over the moon about the partnership as their support will make all the difference to the number of people we can reach."

A thoroughly entertaining show

By Samantha McGregor

MUSICAL Thoroughly Modern Millie starring former soap actress Hayley Tamaddon in the title role will step off in Oxford as part of a UK tour

Hayley, who played Del Dingle in Emmerdale and later Andrea Beckett in Coronation Street, takes on the role of Millie Dilmount, a Kansas girl determined to make it big in New York City

This award-winning musical takes to the stage at the New Theatre from May 1 to 5

Winner of six Tony Awards including Best Musical, Thoroughly Modern Millie is based on the 1967 Academy Award-winning film

It takes the audience back to the height of the Jazz Age in 1920s New York City, when 'moderns' including a flapper named Millie Dillmount, were bobbing their hair, raising their hemlines, entering the workforce and rewriting the rules of love

Millie moves to New York City from Kansas and wants to make it big in the city

She is determined not to go home and even nips up her return ticket, but when she checks in to a hotel owned by the leader of a white slavery ring in China, her problems begin

Watch out for explosive tap numbers to a Fred and Ginger dance routine on a window ledge, and featuring hit songs including Gimme Gimme and Not for the Life of Me, Thoroughly Modern Millie is a funny and entertaining show for all the family

Tamaddon won the fifth series of ITV1's Dancing on Ice and also appeared in television shows Accused, Shameless, Waterloo Road, Where the Heart Is and The Royal

Her musical theatre roles include UK tours of Chicago, Spamalot, The Rocky Horror Show, Grease, Bongo Nights, Fame, The Vagina Monologues and in John Gadber's play Muddy Cows

She also played Diana Morales in A Chorus Line at Sheffield Theatre and appeared in West End versions of Boyband and Mamma Mia

Lucas Rush, who has a string of theatre credits to his name, returns as the evil proprietor of the Hotel Priscilla, Mrs Meers, a role he made his own during the 2017 tour of Thoroughly Modern Millie

Look out for Hairy Bikers popping up at Cornbury fest

ONE of Britain's favourite cooking duos The Hairy Bikers will be roaring into Oxfordshire this summer to join Cornbury Festival

Si King and Dave Myers will be giving festival goers a unique culinary experience when they open their pop-up Wood Fired Restaurant Adventura for the three-day festival at Great Tew Estate from July 13 to 15

Festival goers can enjoy a delicious menu based on recipes from the pair's BBC TV series and best-selling book The Hairy Bikers Med Tarranean Adventure, the bikers will be cooking and sharing their stories for guests throughout the three days.

Festival organiser Hugh Phillimore said: "We've always prided ourselves on providing a great food offering throughout the festival so we're obviously thrilled that The Bikers have chosen us to host their world exclusive pop up restaurant.

"If there were any food exes that fitted our particular festival 'vibe' it would have to be The Bikers – very English, rather eccentric and particularly delicious."

Taking to the stage at Cornbury this summer are Alanis Morissette, Boo Lott, UB40, Stereo MCs, Zucchero, Deacon Blue, Jimmy Cliff, Marc Cohn, PP Arnold and Squeeze

RESPONSIBLE EQUITY RELEASE
Responsible for your comfortable retirement

EQUITY RELEASE COUNCIL

HIGHLY COMMENDED EQUITY RELEASE BROKER Financial Reporter 2016

EQUITY RELEASE

ENJOY THE TRUE VALUE OF YOUR HOME

Recent data reveals the staggering potential wealth available to the UK's elderly homeowners

Property becomes an increasingly important component of your wealth as you age, and this has never been truer with low interest rates affecting savings and pensions underperforming.

Nevertheless, research by the Council of Mortgage Lenders (CML) indicates that over-55 UK homeowners could be sitting on a goldmine with their accumulated property wealth calculated to total £2.5 trillion[1]. To place this figure in context, the UK's elderly homeowners could potentially access more wealth than the GDP of France (£2.4 trillion), according to the latest IMF projections[2].

However, the CML report also indicates that mortgage debt is rising fastest amongst older households, plus incomes traditionally drop in later life. The question is how can this asset wealth be used to benefit you?

Accessing a portion of the equity stored in your home now could provide you with a timely financial boost in later life. If you're a UK homeowner over the age of 55, you may be eligible for a Lifetime Mortgage that could see you access as little as £10,000 of the wealth in your property – a tiny fraction in light of the statistics above – which could help you clear any existing mortgage debts, and provide you with financial security and freedom in retirement.

A Lifetime Mortgage allows you to convert some of the value of your property into a tax-free cash sum without having to give up ownership of your home. Lifetime Mortgage plans have no fixed-end date and come with no required monthly repayments, so the funds you release are yours to spend as you wish. The mortgage and accrued interest are not due for repayment until both you and your partner either pass away or both enter long-term care.

If you are concerned about the build-up of the loan value over time, plans are available that allow you to pay off up to 10pc of the mortgage balance each year without penalty. This can help offset the interest accrued and help to secure some of the property's wealth for your future use.

What's more, with plans from Equity Release Council-approved lenders you will benefit from the safety of the no negative equity guarantee, ensuring that you and your family will never owe more than the value of your home. Plans from approved lenders also allow you the option of moving to a suitable alternative property, subject to the lender's criteria.

On top of this, competitive rates of fixed interest are available, which allow you to get an accurate projection, so you know exactly what is happening with your money at all times.

There's no need to face the golden years of retirement with the clouds of mortgage debt or limited incomes looming on the horizon. After years of responsible saving and hard work, your property could provide you with the financial boost to face the future with confidence, so you can have the retirement you deserve.

Take a summer evening stroll

FOR the first time in June Greys Court is opening its gates after hours for guests to enjoy drinks and canapés in the tranquil walled gardens.

Every Tuesday and Thursday in June pre-booked guests can enjoy touring the garden at the property near Henley at exactly the time of year and time of day when the garden is at its most magical.

Set in the rolling hills of the Chilterns Greys Court is a picturesque Tudor manor house surrounded by layers of history intimate walled gardens and glorious wooded parkland.

The house is warm and welcoming unfurling the memories of the Brunner family through the rooms of their comfortable home.

Across the perfect lawn a medieval tower and patchwork of mellow brick buildings conceal an English country garden. Through an ancient arch seasonal blooms are revealed from bright bulbs through clematis and wisteria to glorious peonies and roses in the summer.

Guests on the evening tour will discover the walled garden as a series of rooms which reveal themselves through wrought metalwork gates and hidden doors in walls.

Lining the path from the kitchen garden is the wooden statue of a former much-loved head gardener is one of the oldest varieties of roses the Rosamundi.

The path is a treat to walk along in June when the double-hedge is heavy with blooms. The rose garden is full of old-fashioned scented varieties which are at their most perfumed in the warm heavy air of an early summer evening.

The latest works of the Oxford Sculpture Group will also be displayed throughout the garden and in the Tudor Cromwellian building for guests to view.

Drinks and canapés will be served near the Oval Lawn.

The event will run from 6.30pm – 8pm and is £25 per person. Booking is essential via the What's On section on the Greys Court website.

For further information about the evenings visit http://www.nationaltrust.org.uk/greys-court.

Back doing what he does best

Catch Dara O Briain, one of the most recognisable faces on British TV, as he goes back to his day job as a world class stand up comedian.

Dara returns to the stage in 2018 with his eagerly awaited new stand-up show Voice Of Reason and will be spending this weekend in Oxford.

This is the chance to see one of the most charismatic, intelligent, fast-talking and downright funny live performers working back in his natural environment.

Dara is one of the most in demand faces on British TV as host of BBC2's hugely successful Mock The Week, Stargazing Live, Robot Wars and Dave's Go8Bit.

Dara has also previously released five classic stand-up DVDs among numerous one-hour specials on the BBC.

He will be at The New Theatre Oxford on Saturday and Sunday from 8pm both nights.

Tickets £29 including booking fees.

Discover Handa's surprise through music and song

By Josh Cox

TAKE a trip to Kenya and join Handa as she journeys to see her best friend Akeyo in the next village

Handa is taking seven delicious fruits as a surprise - but seven different animals have very different ideas about the destination of the fruits

As she walks with the basket balanced on her head - she is unaware of the animals' intentions from a cheeky monkey to a crafty antelope

Physical performance - puppetry - live music and song combine to create an intimate - magical production with plenty of audience participation in Handa's Surprise

The family show beautifully captures the imagery of an African village - the colours of the landscape - its animals and its food

The show is based on the award-winning children's picture book by Eileen Browne and created for the stage by Little Angel Theatre.

Time Out magazine described the show as "the gentle wit of Eileen Browne's popular story is captured. And the two-to-five-year-old children's smiles can only increase at the end of the show when they are offered their final surprise"

Audiences will be in safe hands as the theatre company has built up a wealth of experience since it launched in 1961 - specialising in theatre designed for children and for the presentation of marionette shows

Handa's Surprise will take over the Cornerstone in Didcot on May 6 with three performances

Full price tickets are £8 - concession tickets cost £6 and there are discounted family tickets available

Performances will take place at 11.30am - 1.30pm and 3.30pm - For more information or to book, call the box office on 01235 515144 or visit cornerstone.arts.org

The running time is approximately 35 minutes and the show is aimed at children between two to six years old

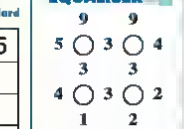
Easy Each row and each column must contain the numbers 1 to 9 and so must each 3 x 3 box. Hard

	5	8			2
	4		3			7
7	1				2	6	9
		7			5	6	1
2			9			7	5	8
	8	1				4		2
			5		3		2
			8		9		4
	2	9	1	7	4	5

			3					5
	5			7	8
			6		2	4
6								7
1			8			3	9
	8	7
		1		2	6
9	8	5						3
		9				5

EQUALISER



Place the four signs (add subtract, multiply divide) one in each circle so that the total of each across and down line is the same. Perform the first calculation in each line first and ignore the mathematical law which says you should always perform division and multiplication before addition and subtraction.

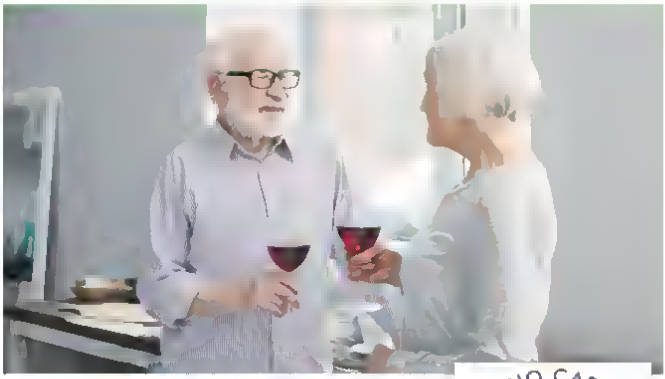
Who Cares?

The longevity of love



As Prince Harry and Meghan Markle tie the knot with all the fanfare of a royal wedding, and set out together into married life, many of us looking back over the years know that a successful marriage is about far more than the romance of a courtship and the glitz of the big day

After all

All the world s a stage

And all the men and women merely players

They have their exits and their entrances

And one man in his time plays many parts,

His acts being seven ages.

William Shakespeare. As you like it

Silver, ruby, gold and diamond wedding anniversaries, 25th, 40th, 50th and 60th respectively are the celebrations of lives spent together for those that have had the fortune to enjoy the longevity of such a partnership

With mirth and laughter let old wrinkles come

William Shakespeare Merchant of Venice

The Queen and Prince Philip celebrated their seventieth or platinum anniversary last year whilst Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet never made it. However Chipping Norton Theatre plays host this month to Romeo and Juliet all grown up presenting a lyrical play by Ben Powers that reimagines the star-crossed lovers if the classic play had ended differently, without the premature deaths of the principle pair and then this married couple had grown old together their love altered by time but no less strong because of it. Romeo would perhaps have agreed with Anthony who said of Cleopatra Age cannot wither her, nor custom stale her infinite variety

(William Shakespeare Anthony and Cleopatra)

Cleverly taking words from Shakespeare's original and weaving them into a different narrative told only by the long-term lovers it s a heart-breakingly romantic story of loyalty enduring love, and then the loss of it at the end of their lives together. This mature poetic reflection on their time together and on the challenges of advancing years presented with both tender pathos and gentle humour, is thought-provoking

A Tender Thing by Ben Power at The Theatre Chipping Norton runs from 3rd-12th May with 'relaxed' afternoon performances on Wed 9th and Sunday 12th

Advertorial

Viavi:be is a very different type of gym

Recently opened in Summertown, Oxford, it has been specially created by a team of leading Harley Street clinicians for those whose want to do something about their health, but don't feel that the more traditional gyms are for them. We all know that feeling. We start with great intentions – we need to tone up, get fitter and recover those old energy levels, want to feel a bit stronger, or simply need to get on top of our health and avoid the slippery slope – and after a few months, all that motivation goes, and we are back to our bad old habits.

At Viavi.be they have recognised this and have created something totally new. You notice the difference the moment you walk in - no mirrors, plasmas or thumping music. Here the emphasis is on getting and demonstrating great results in the most effective, quickest and easiest way, all in a calm, purposeful environment.

Because it has been created by clinicians, it builds on a deep understanding of the latest lifestyle medicine science and knowledge. It includes a unique sequence of advanced equipment, much of which you will not have seen elsewhere, a wide range of lifestyle support all under the one roof, and the support of caring, expert health coaches. And what's more, results can be guaranteed in only two 35mins sessions per week, ideal for those of us with little time.

Further details can be found at www.viavi-be.com, or by calling 01865 689214.

Its official.

Hearing aids can do more than improve your hearing.

Following a survey carried out in 2015 by Anovum (a market research company) on 1325 hearing impaired people (605 hearing aid wearers and 720 not wearing hearing aids). The survey reports that hearing aids not only improve capabilities of hearing well but also improved the general health of hearing aid wearers compared to hearing impaired people who do not wear a hearing aid. Hearing aid users are less likely to think they have the symptoms of dementia, feel less physically and mentally exhausted, sleep better and are less likely to suffer from depression.

The survey confirms what some Audiologists have suspected for some time, that hearing aids are not only good for correcting hearing loss but in fact contribute to better and more active lives, better quality of life, and better overall health.

For the hearing impaired workers who wear a hearing aid it is reported that their hearing aids are useful for their job and that the hearing aids also increase the chance of them getting promoted, being in the right job and getting more salary compared to those hearing impaired people who have not obtained hearing aids.

The full report can be found at EuroTrak UK 2015 – ehima

A new hearing system is just the beginning and a hearing aid system is only as good as the audiologist prescribing and programming it.

At Keith Donaghy Hearingcare we offer the best bespoke hearing aid systems virtually unnoticeable fitting comfortably into your ear.

Keith will help you every step of the way whilst you adjust to your new hearing ability, for some this takes months for others a matter of a few weeks but Keith is always on hand to answer questions or give advice on getting the best from your system. The last thing he wants (as is often the case when insufficient aftercare is available) is for your hearing aids to end up in the back of a drawer somewhere, unused because you felt that nothing else could be done to rectify any programming or rehabilitation problems.

Keith wants to know if you have any concerns about your hearing, no matter how big or small, so that you and he can work together to achieve the best results.

Fixed Rate Mortgages aren't for everyone

With the recent rise in interest rates Michael Alberts, Principal Mortgage Adviser of Oxfordshire based NGI Residential Mortgages looks at the pros and cons of fixed and variable rate mortgages

When considering a mortgage one of the principal decisions you'll need to make is whether you are going to opt for a fixed rate mortgage, so your interest rate is fixed for the entire term of your mortgage (2, 3, 5 or 10 years) or whether it will be variable, so your lender can move the rate up or down without consulting you, usually, but not necessarily in line with the government's base rate

A fixed rate means you know exactly what your repayments will be, enabling you to decide on the size of mortgage you can afford by matching the repayments with your foreseeable household income Some clients like fixed rate mortgages for the peace of mind it gives them knowing exactly what they'll be paying

Variable rates may seem more attractive initially because they are usually lower than fixed rates. This is because lenders offering fixed rates have to best-guess what the average interest rate is going to be over the entire mortgage period. Whereas, a lender can change a variable rate for their own commercial reasons; they may pass on a rate reduction or increase rates in anticipation of a base rate rise. It is important to remember that you have no protection from any changes to the economy or your lenders decisions in regard to a variable rate

We are currently experiencing record low interest rates, but a recent survey by The Times predicted that the future costs of borrowing will increase, regardless of a Bank of England interest rate rise leading to a 0 5 percentage rise, equating to an additional £45 per month on a £175,000 repayment mortgage. https://www.thetimes.co.uk/article/borrowing-costs-set-to-rise-in-2018-mqpb0q55f

So, what are your options? If you're coming to the end of a fixed rate mortgage you may find your monthly repayments decrease when you move onto a standard variable rate, but this may not last. Now might be the time to look at a fixed rate mortgage before an increase. Fixed rate mortgages may suit people who want a precise budget to work with but not those looking for an initially cheaper, more flexible option Speak to a mortgage adviser, like myself, who will advise you on the best course of action and find the most suitable solution for you

A mortgage is a loan secured against your home or property. Your home or property may be repossessed if you do not keep up repayments on your mortgage or any other debt secured on it

You may have to pay an early repayment charge to your existing lender if you remortgage

What to consider as a student landlord

With two leading universities and a student population nearing 40,000, Oxford and the surrounding areas have always been popular for investing in properties that can be let to students and despite the local council's mission to limit the growth in Homes of Multiple Occupancy (HMOs)–growing student numbers mean the student rental market is set to remain a secure investment stream.

However, whether you're an existing student landlord or considering becoming one, you should consider what it is that your tenants will be looking for in their rental property.

Long gone are the days when you simply needed to adhere the necessary regulations and provide a room for each tenant. Students nowadays are a lot more discerning.

Whilst it is true that they're most likely looking for a property in a great location that offers good size rooms and is in a good state of repair with average rents sitting at anywhere between £500 and £650 per month, it's understandable why students should demand the best.

Simply put, the better the quality of property you intend to let, the better the standard of tenant you'll attract—even in the student market. We've seen the best landlords allow 2-3 weeks between tenancies to carry out minor refurbishments on their property thus avoiding any decline in standards which could lead to void periods.

Of course, the better the standard of property you let out, the more likely it is that the student tenants will want to remain for the following academic year, which in turn reduces your costs searching for new tenants.

But it's not just the overall condition of the property that will help you to secure tenants. Students nowadays look for quality furnishings and quirky-stylish finishing details and the all-important.

High speed broadband connection – although don't forget to hand billing responsibility for that over to the tenants!

With the necessary detail in mind, the prime areas in which to invest will probably come as no surprise. Near to the Cowley/Iffley triangle, in and around Jericho and opposite the Oxford Brookes Gypsy Lane campus all remain popular and it's unlikely that this will change.

However-something that is shifting to an extent is the size of property which appeals to the student market. With an increasing amount of purpose-built accommodation springing up in the locations around Oxford Brookes University we are finding that some of the much larger student properties (5 bed plus) are becoming more difficult to let as student friendship groups shrink in size.

An additional knock-on effect of more students opting for university accommodation is that those continuing to rent in the private sector will have a greater property choice and, as such, demand much higher standards.

Rest assured, student property is still a sound investment, but if you've got queries as to the most sought after areas, the most popular types of property and the must-have features that will enable you to successfully let to students, then drop in to one of the five Andrews branches across the county or visit www.andrewsonline.co.uk to speak with our expert teams who can guide you in the right direction.

Victorian School Conversion

This tastefully renovated former Victorian School conversion, located in central Wallingford and just a short walk from its amenities, boasts rarely found charm. Period features mixed with a contemporary finish provide for modern living in a Grade II Listed building.

Set over 1300 square foot with three bedrooms, a bathroom and shower room, there is more than enough space to appeal to a wide range of buyers. The former geography class room forms the open plan reception space.

It contains a recently modernised kitchen area with fully integrated appliances and boasts an impressive vaulted ceiling with an abundance of light and panoramic views coming from the triple windows.

Outside there is a garage, an allocated parking space and visitor parking as well as maintained communal gardens for relaxing and socialising.

What New Lettings Legislation Makes A Good Letting Agent Worth Its Weight In Gold

Bill Cooper, co-author of The Oxford Property Blog and managing director of Martin and Co, Oxford

GDPR, MEES Right To Rent, HMO Licencing and HHSRS are just some of the new and not-so-new acronyms and responsibilities for Oxford's buy to let landlords to deal with Add to that, the changes in mortgage interest rate relief, stamp duty surcharges and daily doomsday headlines about UK property, and it is no wonder some landlords are wondering whether it is all worth it

Regular readers will have seen in my article last week the evidence of the attractive financial returns that are still being earned by landlords in Oxford Annual returns on investment of c15% means that changes to interest rate relief whilst annoying and inconvenient, can be easily afforded Stamp duty if anything, puts those with property already in a stronger competitive position vs those who will invest in future Whilst such barriers to entry may ultimately restrict Oxford renter a choice and drive rents still higher existing landlords will be the biggest beneficiaries.

So financially so good. But what about the legislation? Agents like landlords are often tarred with the same brush as the thankfully few rogue agents Just as not all landlords are slum landlords, not all agents are rogue The best agents are staying ahead of new and existing legislative changes They actively communicate with landlords to forewarn of new rules, work with them to respond in time, and keep records in case needed at a future date

Overall, the direction and intent behind the changes being made are to be applauded Improving standards, improving controls and controlling data use But collectively these new rules and regulations are becoming near impossible for self-managing landlords to cope with

Lettings agents are increasingly seeking to aggregate their managed portfolios introduce new working practices to improve efficiency and finding money to ensure they can cope and keep their clients compliant. It seems to me that for some this has also coincided with a reduced commitment to local property management preferring instead to centralise functions that cover ever increasing geographical territories from a single staff location Increasingly the norm for property inspections has reduced to 3 inspections annually down from 4. But, is it desirable for active management of the landlord asset to be reduced to create budget for legislative compliance?

Few private landlords understand that the new General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR) will require them to register with the Information Commissioner's Office Fewer still know that such registration was already a requirement of the Data Protection Act

Oxford City Council is aiming to drive standards for Oxfords Houses in multiple occupation (HMO) faster and higher than national legislation The inability to raise fines for non-compliance of up to £30 000 on HMO landlords and/or their agent under new fixed penalty notices makes it important that landlords and agents understand their compliance obligations Meanwhile The Association of Lettings Agents (ARLA) the professional body for Letting Agents states that the active management requirement for HMO properties can not be met via just 4 property inspection per month. It's recommendation is a minimum of 8 and more as required to follow-up compliance issues

Increasingly Oxford's landlords will depend on their local agent, to keep abreast of legislation to stay compliant Failure by them or their agent could prove expensive Claiming ignorance or an inability to keep-up with the rules will not prove to be an effective defence

Older residents celebrate their independence as new homes open

Residents at Season's Millcroft independent living apartments in Wallingford celebrated the formal opening of their new home with family friends and VIP's today [Friday 20 April] Residents and visitors enjoyed Prosecco, the delightful music of local harpist, Jane Coulcher and a wonderful hog roast in the garden from the Oxfordshire Pig Roast Company The party was also treated to surprise entertainment from Wallingford based ballet dancers, the Kinecraft Academy of Dance.

As Millcroft celebrated its formal opening, resident Nancy cut the ribbon and said, "It was all very good, the sun shone, the garden is looking lovely the hog roast was super and I'm very pleased to be living her I have enjoyed having a more spacious flat and I have made new friends The staff, from the manager down, are all very helpful and friendly and very caring Millcroft is a lovely place to live."

Sheila, the first resident to move into the shared ownership flat cut our ceremonial cake she said: "It was a very pleasant day a good social occasion I am very happy here and settled much quicker than I thought and can't fault the accommodation or staff it's a real home I try to do things myself but it's nice to know there is help when I need it."

General Manager Daryl Reading said: "The atmosphere at Millcroft is brilliant, there is a real sense of community We are delighted to open our doors to some of the people who helped create this great scheme, as well as local key organisations, friends and relatives so that they can join in the fun.

"The staff are really dedicated to our residents who benefit from top quality care at Millcroft. Our 40 one and two-bedroom apartments are filling up now, and we really are an extended family

"It's been an exciting few months since we opened; we're really looking forward to showing off our home to local people and enjoying more events in the future together"

Millcroft is the first scheme in Oxfordshire from multi-award winning independent living provider Season. Independent living apartments are specifically designed for older people who need some care The residents live in their own homes that they can furnish as they wish and have design features such as walk in showers which make life easier There is also help on hand at all times, if needed. It is increasingly popular and is seen as a positive way to meet the challenge of an expected 84% increase in people over 85 in the county by 2020

Representatives from Season's parent company One Housing, as well as Oxfordshire Council and David Wilson Homes were all on hand to mark the occasion.

For more information on Millcroft call 0300 123 7334 or visit www seasonhomes co uk

SKODA Karoq Edition 1.5 TSI 150PS – 6 Speed

Box ticking Skoda straight into top 10

By Tony Yates

EVERY week, I get a few dozen emails asking for suggestions on what is the best small to medium sized car to buy. Well, at first, I always say; 'pick what makes you happy'. It's actually quite hard to give individual advice based on not having the full picture of their needs, and secondly their budget. All I will say is that there are about ten vehicles right now that I consider being pretty good, such as the VW UP! and the Fiat 500. Of course there are others that spring to mind, such as the Kia Stonic. But, when it comes to small/medium SUVs it's a little harder to judge. Well, to make it simple for you, this weeks review of the Skoda Karoq just happens to be one of those that fall inside my list of 'Top 10' vehicles to buy.

Power & efficiency

The Karoq I currently have on test is powered by a 150PS 1.5 TSI petrol engine with a 6-speed manual gearbox and a respectable top speed of around 126mph. It also has a 0-62 time of 8.4 seconds and with little fuss, I managed a combined figure of around 50mpg. Actually having 150PS in a Karoq makes it move along at a really good pace and as I have found out with most of the TSi range of engines, they loved to be revved hard, which means you get the best out of it at every opportunity.

On the road

I like the way the Karoq handles – it feels well balanced, and so it should, as its designed to be a proper family SUV which I happen to like very much. Also when the road gets twisty it's more than capable of holding its own. The steering also feels agile and direct, giving you the confidence to push harder into the corners which also makes it feel fun to drive because it sticks firmly to the road ahead – something that Skoda always seems to get right when it comes to getting the best out of the chassis.

Equipment & tech

Some would say that most Skoda interiors seem a little bland, but there is a reason for this, its called being 'functional' Let's face it, how many times have you sat inside a BMW and been overpowered with the array of buttons that frankly you would need a BSc in Astrophysics to work them all out. Skoda does none of this in any of their vehicles, which is something I like because I am the sort of person who likes things to be 'unfussy'.

Although, I am quite fussy when it comes to seating, but the seating in the Karoq felt well constructed and the support was there in all the right places and even after a long journey I still felt very relaxed. As for all the dials and switches – they are laid out very well and as mentioned earlier nothing looks awkwardly out of place and best of all, no university BSc required.

Some of the standard equipment on the Karoq Edition includes; 19" Crater alloy wheels, electronic traction control, front assist drivers airbag, passengers airbag with de-activation switch, Isofix preparation, dual-zone climate control, cruise control with speed limiter automatic headlight control, driver fatigue sensor, full LED headlights with adaptive front lighting system and LED daytime running lights, blind spot detection with rear traffic alert, Columbus satellite navigation system with 9.2" touchscreen display with maps and integrated Wi-Fi with gesture control.

Plus it doesn't stop there either – you also get a DAB radio & Bluetooth connectivity, and ESC which includes, ABS+MSR+ASR+EDS+HBA+DSR+EBS+MKB – if you want to know what all those mean, then I suggest you take a trip to your local Skoda dealer and ask a well informed salesperson.

To sum up

I'm going to give the Karoq four stars in this test, not only because I like it a lot, but because I believe it's a decent sized SUV that will tick all the boxes for someone looking for that type of vehicle. From £27,115 OTR – excluding extras.

Working to stay ahead of rivals

By George Welch

F1 - Renault

SWAGGERING with new upgrades ahead of Sunday's Azerbaijan GP in Baku, Renault are hoping to continue their upward trajectory.

The Enstone outfit are hopeful the introduction of new chassis upgrades will help them emerge at the top of Formula 1's tight midfield.

The consistency of Nico Hulkenberg has helped the French manufacturer to a solid start, scoring points at each of the opening three races in Australia, Bahrain and China to occupy fifth place in the constructors' standings.

Despite the encouraging start, Renault has admitted they hoped to be closer to the Big Three and are adrift of customer teams Red Bull (30 points) and McLaren (three).

But Renault are hoping a series of chassis upgrades, including front and rear wing and bargeboards updates in Baku, will help them catch up. They will also introduce an engine upgrade at next month's Spanish Grand Prix.

"Baku will mark the start of the next phase of our season push," managing director Cyril Abiteboul said.

The next phase: Nico Hulkenberg, who has led the way for Renault in the opening three races, is hoping upgrades give his side an advantage in a three-horse field. Picture: Renault Sport Formula One Team

"We are confident that the combination of these developments can allow us to maintain our performance. We need to remain focussed on making every single element work."

Hulkenberg, who sits seventh in the drivers' standings having scored 22 of his team's 25 points so far added: "It's important to keep picking up a good number of points to make sure we are in the hunt.

"It's about continuing on this upward trajectory and putting the work in to make sure we are ahead of our rivals."

Meanwhile, the team principal of Banbury-based Haas has backed one of his flailing drivers.

Romain Grosjean has had the pace this season, but has so far been unable to match it with results.

Team-mate Kevin Magnussen is responsible for all 11 of Haas's points – but Gunther Steiner dismissed Grosjean's lack of points as a problem.

He said: "While Romain hasn't had the results he would've liked and we all wished we had, for no reason or another, there was never a lack of performance.

"Romain will get the results he and we want. I have no doubt about that."

Massa's wish for old team

F1 - Williams

FELIPE Massa believes former team Williams is paying the price for putting money first this season.

The Grove-based side have lagged behind the rest in the early stages of the season and are the only team yet to score a point.

Massa retired from the sport at the end of last season and was replaced by rookie Russian Sergey Sirotkin to partner Lance Stroll.

It is believed the pair came with a budget of well over £10m each.

Speaking to Motorsport.com Massa said: "It's true that the team was suffering from the financial situation and I think they made decisions for 2018 putting money first.

"But this is not enough to make a competitive championship. I hope Williams can recover."

Deputy team principal Claire Williams has insisted their driver selection was race-based and not to do with money.

Williams will take confidence ahead of the weekend from Stroll's podium finish in Baku last year.

The Canadian said: "I have some great memories of Baku. It was my first podium in Formula 1, so I shall never forget that and the whole experience was amazing."

Technical director Paddy Lowe said Stroll's third-place made for a "very eventful race and memorable one for Williams".

He added: "It would be bold to expect another podium but he should perform well given his significant achievements in Baku last year."

Promising signs from Saints as newcomer impresses

American Football

OXFORD Saints followed up last week's turnover to Solent Thrashers with a 21-21 tie at Berkshire Renegades.

Saints showed signs of improvement in Sunday's clash away to the Reading-based side.

Home advantage and the Berkshire club's surprising week one win over last season's undefeated Sussex Thunder made them favourites for the clash with Oxford, but found a Saints side ready for the Renegades.

Following a 41-yard gain from quarterback Dan Storey and a touchdown by Andrew Nielson, James Treherne kicked the extra point through the uprights to open Reading's account at 7-0.

Scores were level when strong attacking play saw Shaun Griffin cross into the endzone with Sam Fielden adding the extra point to tie the scores 7-7 at half time.

Saints newcomer Josh Peck showed his talents at the beginning of the third quarter weaving through defenders for a 90-yard touchdown with Fielden converting a kick to move 14-7 ahead.

A controversial fumble in the endzone saw officials award Ben Raper with a touchdown before Treherne added another extra point to tie the score again at 14-14.

Shaun Griffin and an on target Fielden put Oxford 21-14 ahead before a 54 yard touchdown run from Johnny Whitehead and Treherne's third tied scores again at the final whistle.

Frustrated to leave Texas without point

Moto GP

OXFORD rider Bradley Smith just missed out on the points in Sunday's third round of 19 races in the 2018 MotoGP.

The Red Bull KTM Factory Racing rider finished 16th at the quick and flowing Circuit of the Americas in Austin, Texas, while team-mate Pol Espargaro secured 13th position.

The pair lined up next to each other on the fifth row of the grid for the 20 lap dash.

Following a tussle for a mid-pack slot, Smith took a gamble opting for a medium front tyre forcing him to slow his pace.

Smith said: "It was a good weekend and I felt like I had some pace especially in the beginning where I made up three positions and was fighting with Jorge Lorenzo.

"We took a gamble. Pol went with the soft front tyre and I went with the medium and with these temperatures I thought it would work but it just went off and there was nothing I could do.

"This is all part of the learning experience and figuring out what works with this motorcycle and how to improve.

"It is a bit frustrating to come away without any points."

MotoGP is heading back to Europe in Andalucia in two weeks' time.

Seven over par leaves Eddie off the cut line

Golf

ABINGDON golfer Eddie Pepperell missed the cut for the second European Tour championship in a row following an error laden run.

A triple-bogey eight at the eighth in the second round of the Trophee Hassan II doomed Pepperell to his fate in Rabat, Morocco.

After carding a two-over par 74 in the first round he headed into the second round inside the cut line.

The 27 year-old Oxfordshire golfer was later made to rue the dropped shots on the course tree-lined with tricky rough.

A birdie on the 11th was not enough to retain his place into the weekend after a bogey at the 12th was followed by a double-bogey two holes later.

The result leaves the pro 36th in the European Tour rankings.

Pepperell was fancied to fare well heading into the tournament after shooting a 65 in his second round at the Open de Espana in Spain earlier in the month.

But the Qatar Masters champion finished in Morocco with a 77 for two-round total of 151.

The result meant he missed the cut by four shots.

Pepperell is next in action at the GolfSixes at Centurion Club in St Albans on May 5 where he will partner Matt Wallace.

Stars miss out trophy treble in narrow loss

By Owen Hughes

Ice Hockey

LEAGUE champions Oxford City Stars were unable to complete a trophy treble after crashing out of the play-offs at the semi final stage.

Oxford thrashed Bristol Pitbulls in the play-off quarter finals a fortnight ago with a 14-4 aggregate win sending Stars into the semi final clash with Chelmsford Chieftains brimming with confidence.

Fans from both sides packed the John Nike Leisuresport arena in Bracknell alongside fans of Solent Devils and Guildford Phoenix ahead of their semi-final match up

But having already won the South 2 league title and the National Championship play-off glory eluded the Stars as Chelmsford triumphed 5-3 on Saturday

Spectators were treated to an incredible game of ice hockey that served up all the drama and excitement fans could ask for

A quick and direct Chieftains dominated the first period.

Their attacking approach paid off as they took the lead after just six minutes through Grant Bartlett.

Chelmsford doubled their lead just before the first break through Anthony Leone leaving much work to do for the Stars

Stars came out in the second period with renewed purpose and an intensity that their opponents weren t expecting, grabbing the first goal after five minutes

Josh Florey scored to reduce the deficit sending the Stars fans into raptures Three minutes later the roof came off as Florey scored his second of the game to wipe out the Chieftains lead.

There were an further goals in the period, but plenty of penalties as both sides tried to secure a physical edge over their opponents

The arena was rocking heading into the final period as both sides pressed for a winner

Grant Bartlett edged the Essex side ahead on 42 minutes but the Stars fought back when Josh Oliver scored three minutes later to level things once again.

Michal Oravec regained the lead for Chelmsford at 4-3

The Stars fought for their lives to get back in the game but it was Chelmsford who scored again as the impressive Bartlett completed his hat-trick to break Oxford hearts

Solent Devils beat the Chieftains 8-1 in the final to secure promotion.

Draw ends season at home

Banbury United

A last-gasp equaliser denied Banbury United victory in their last home game of the season.

The Puritans ended their home fixtures with an entertaining 3-3 draw against Merthyr Town on Saturday

Substitute Leam Howards scored twice and played a part in Elliot Sandy s goal as the Puritans led 3-2 in the six-goal thriller

But Owain Jones slotted home in the dying seconds to deny Mike Ford's side victory

The visitors took the lead through a first half Ian Treylor penalty

Banbury equalised five minutes after the restart when Bowards coolly back heeled home.

The striker quickly made it 2-1 when he fired in a rebound.

Merthyr equalised on 74 minutes through Jones but United hit back immediately thanks to Sandy

But they were denied victory in the 90th minute when the ball was fired across the area and Jones slotted home for his second of the afternoon.

The Puritans have only won one of their six matches during a hectic April schedule

The games keep coming thick and fast though as they travelled to Frome Town (13th) yesterday (Wednesday), after we went to press.

Ninth-placed Banbury, aiming for a top 10 finish, play away at Tiverton Town (7th) in their last game of the season on Saturday

Freds denied promotion

Hellenic

IN-FORM Wantage Town are set for another season in the Hellenic Premier after results went against them this week.

The Freds, looking to bounce back following last year s relegation, have won 11 of their last 12 league games

But Bracknell Town, unbeaten at home have won their last five games to tie up second spot the last automatic berth.

They won 2-0 at Woodley United on Tuesday to condemn Wantage to another season in the ninth tier

Wantage were due to play away at Windsor last night (Wednesday) before finishing the season with a trip to Burnham on Saturday

Abingdon United were also out of action – they finish the campaign at home to Highmoor Ibis – but Oxford City Nomads continued their losing finish to the season.

They lost 1-0 at Burnham on Saturday and 2-1 at home to Lydney Town on Tuesday to bring their campaign to a close

Bradley Singh got Oxford's consolation against Lydney on the hour after Declan Morley-Lyne gave the visitors a two-goal lead before the break.

Mid-table City finished with a winless run of five games including four defeats

They are 11th having played all their games, but several teams have games in hand.

Favours all round to help

Rugby

WHEATLEY gave their Oxfordshire rivals from Littlemore a helping hand on Saturday by beating Chesham 25-22

However, the purple men were forced to come from behind after trailing 18-19 at half time

A kick from Boucher extended the lead to 18-22 before Wheatley pounced on a tired Chesham to eventually see out the match 25-22

Despite a resolute performance from Wheatley the lack of bonus point at the final whistle means Chesham are guaranteed third in the Berks Bucks & Oxon Premier one place above Wheatley on 47 points, with one game to go

The result also did rivals Littlemore a favour who secured second place with a 71-7 win over Bletchley

Elsewhere Didcot s trip to Milton Keynes was one to forget as the fell 23-15 in Buckinghamshire

At the other end of the rugby pyramid, second placed Chinnor lost their National League 2 South clash at Canterbury 52-29 while mid-table Henley Hawks were beaten 36-19 by London Irish Wild Geese

In the South West 1 East, Grove fell 39-15 at Swindon as bottom club Bicester lost 57-20 away to Wimborne

Banbury punished Witney 36-19 but had to settle for second after Old Patesians were crowned champions after beating Oxford Harlequins 34-7

Evo-Stik round up

DIDCOT Town s race for the play-offs will go the last game of the season on Saturday after they got back to winning ways

The Railwaymen lost 2-1 at Salisbury on Saturday meaning they needed to win their final three matches to have a chance of making the top six.

The first hurdle was jumped on Tuesday when Diddy beat Larkhall Athletic 4-2 at the Loop Meadow

Goals came from Marlon Agyakwa, Lewis Hayden and Felipe Barcelos (twice)

Didcot are eighth, three points off the play-offs with two games to go, including tonight's (Thursday) at North Leigh.

Elsewhere in Evo-Stik South West, Kidlington suffered a 3-2 defeat at Cirencester United on Saturday

Declan Benjamin and Duran Martin gave the Greens the lead in the first and second half but were overpowered by the promotion hunters

North Leigh fell to a 2-0 defeat at Winchester City the same day before the Millers bounced back with a 5-1 win at Barnstaple Town on Tuesday

Meanwhile in the East division, mid-table Thame United scored three goals in six second-half minutes to earn a 3-1 win at Northwood.

Jermain Osei gave the home side a 21st minute lead and United had to wait until the final 20 minutes to turn the game around.

Lyoton Goss fired home on 72 minutes before Tom Ashworth and James McGowan goals completed the comeback on 78 minutes

Hoops net four in impressive display to end season at home

By Owen Hughes

Oxford City

OXFORD City signed off their final home game of the season with their biggest win of the entire campaign.

A sublime Hoops display saw them cast aside relegated Bognor Regis Town easing to a 4-0 win in front of the Marsh Lane faithful.

The result mathematically confirms safety for City securing their place in the National League South for another season.

Manager Mark Jones was given a boost ahead of the fixture by the return of Eddie Jones and Frankie Musonda to his starting line up following suspension and injury respectively

The City boss opted to revert to the 3-5-2 formation that has worked well for the side in recent months as Jones went straight in at right wing back and Musonda slotted into the back three

But it was Matt Paterson who proved to be the difference for Oxford throughout the first half.

He crashed a shot off the outside of the post on 14 minutes before going close five minutes later, forcing visiting shot stopper Dan Lincoln into a fine save from a powerful left footed drive

An unusual set of circumstances saw Paterson eventually open the scoring from the penalty spot on 38 minutes

Referee Alex Blake waved play on when Freddie Grant was fouled in the box, before pointing to the spot seconds later when Rob Sinclair buried his effort that was flagged for offside.

Less than five minutes later, top scorer Paterson snatched his 20th league goal of the campaign smashing Musonda's rebound into the roof of the net

A spectacular curling effort from Musonda on 76 minutes put the game beyond doubt before Sinclair's tidy finish with one minute remaining put the tie to bed.

City played out a goalless draw after making the long trip to Braintree Town's Cressing Road on Tuesday

The Hoops visit Wealdstone (11th) tonight and bring the season to a close with another away game at Poole Town (20th) who are a point from safety with a game to go

Heartbreak as penalty misery in 89th minute denies a point

OXFORD United Women's season continues to finish with a whimper after two more defeats extended their winless run to eight league games

The U's lost 2-1 at home to Tottenham Hotspur last Thursday before a 1-0 defeat at Aston Villa on Sunday saw them slip to third bottom in WSL2

There was late penalty drama against Spurs as the Londoners snatched all three points right at the death.

United were unlucky to lose but fell behind to a Katie O'Leary goal on the half hour mark.

Makeshift forward Hannah Short equalised with 20 minutes remaining.

The match looked to be petering out into a draw until Tottenham were awarded an 89th minute penalty Coral-Jade Haines made an mistake from the spot for the winner

Oxford lost again three days later when an Ebony Salmon strike 15 minutes from time secured Villa the victory at the Lamb Ground.

The Midlanders had lost six of their previous seven games but claimed the three points via Salmon's 13th of the season.

United, who last tasted victory against Villa at the end of January, have three games remaining, starting with a trip to Sheffield Ladies on Sunday

They are eighth on 16 points from 15 games

Eastwood: Quietly confident of staying up

SENSATIONAL shot-stopper Simon Eastwood was in superb shape to secure back-to-back clean sheets for the first time since December

Oxford United's number one has saved many points during his two-year stint between the sticks at the U's

He was overworked again in the 1-0 win at Doncaster Rovers on Saturday – but United have now conceded just two goals in four games

Eastwood made two vital saves in the second half as Oxford picked up their first three points on the road since February

"They were good saves," the 28-year-old said. "When it's 0-0 or 1-0 it's vital to make those saves

"I think the (better) one was in the second half where it came across the box and he (Matty Blair) had the whole goal to shoot at and I just tried to make myself as big as possible

"Luckily I dived the right way and made the save."

He added, "It was a very, very interesting game. We were trying so hard to win and in the second half the fans pushed us forward and luckily James Henry got the winner."

Eastwood thinks United are safe on 53 points but said it remains a matter of opinion.

"We are quietly confident," he added.

Contract issues leave Ricky's future in doubt

BRAZILIAN left back Ricardinho was left out of the Oxford United starting XI at Doncaster Rovers due to a contract clause, boss Karl Robinson confirmed.

The veteran was left on the bench as he only needs one more start to trigger a contract extension for next season.

With the U's virtually safe, Robinson now has summer recruitment and next season on his radar

When quizzed on Ricardinho's absence, he said, "We've got some contractual situations going on, including raises if players hit a certain number

"That might have a detrimental impact on what we are trying to do [at the club] I've taken a chance on something for next year I've got to do these things

"Don't think that Ricky's not going to be here, but we have to get things right on our terms before we move forward."

Robinson, who recently described the bubbly full back as a 'diamond' added, "Is there better for that salary? He's 33...is there someone at 24 or 25?

"You've got to think about the whole picture."

Ricardinho, whose work rate has warmed him to the United fans, has scored three goals in 37 games.

Henry uses his head to move U's nearer safety

By George Welch

Doncaster Rovers 0
Oxford United 1
James Henry 63

Attendance: 8,255 (1,018 away)

SUPER sub James Henry has helped edge Oxford United nearer to enjoying League One football again next year after sinking Doncaster Rovers.

The midfielder hit double figures with his match winning second half header on Saturday.

The 1-0 win at the Keepmoat does not eliminate the U's from the relegation battle – but James' diving header has gone a long way to securing survival.

"It's an important goal and three points," he said.

"We were coming to win and it was always going to be a massive game. Hopefully we've done enough now."

United's 53-point haul has been good enough for third tier survival in every season since 1988/89.

Henry's goals in the second half of the season have been absolutely critical for the U's.

Since the turn of the year he has found the back of the net against Bury, Charlton, Rotherham, Peterborough, Scunthorpe, Southend and Doncaster.

Of his latest goal, he said: "It was a perfect cross [from Ryan Ledson] and a good finish. It's about timing, closing your eyes and hoping for the best."

The 26-year-old was perhaps surprisingly left on the bench having played no part against Wigan Athletic during the week before.

The former Wolves man added: "It would have been nice to start but it's the manager's discretion to pick the team.

"All I could do was come on and play my part. I managed to do that and get the goal.

"It was a nice way to pick up the points but we had Simon Eastwood to thank in goal.

"That's 10 goals now but I don't want to stop there, there's two games left and hopefully I can beat Wes Thomas as the top goal scorer."

Boss Karl Robinson said his Oxford players rode their luck but that it was the first time they stood up and were men – even if the former MK and Charlton man had to catch his breath afterwards.

He said: "For the first time in more than 400 games and nearly 10 years my heart skipped a beat.

"I had to sit down for 30 seconds afterwards as the game was so enthralling."

Oxford (16th) have two games left of the 2017/18 season and play their final game at the Kassam Stadium against strugglers Rochdale (19th) on Saturday.

The U's finish the campaign at title-chasers Blackburn Rovers (2nd) on May 5.

We have to be brave to be successful

KARL Robinson believes Oxford United will be challeng ng for the League One play-offs if he is backed sufficiently.

The win at Doncaster Rovers and Tuesday's results mean a solitary point is needed to secure United's third-tier status.

Robinson has wasted no time and is putting plans in place for next season – and he has sent a clear message to chairman Sumrith Thanakamanasuth.

He said: "If we get backed in the summer we'll be successful. If we're brave in the summer, we'll be successful.

"We have to change our mentality. We don't have a small club mentality but we do small things in a big football league.

"Settling for where we are can't be something we just take on the chin.

"We'll settle for survival this year but next year we have to push into the top-10 and the play-offs – that's the bare minimum."

He added: "I'm so proud of my players [for avoiding relegation] and I am so looking forward to getting this club towards the play-offs.

"The win against Doncaster gives us a chance to look forward as a group and I'm ecstatic for everyone involved. What a great week."

Robinson confirmed he is meeting three potential recruits this week and has told some players they are surplus to requirements.
